Hoover 'Letter' Tackled

McCarthy Claims
FBI Warnings
Were Ignored

WASHINGTON (AP)—An alleged "secret and confidential" letter from J. Edgar Hoover, warning of a highly dangerous security situation at Ft. Monmouth, N.J., touched off a new uproar in the McCarthy-Pentagon hearings.

The dispute arose after the Army, and the Democrats on the Senate Investigations Subcommittee, blocked a Republican drive to cut the televised hearings short and maybe wind them up this week with Sen. McCarthy (R-N.J.) as the final witness.

As the ninth day of the inquiry ended, Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill.) called for night and Saturday sessions if necessary to speed up the investigation.

McCarthy set off the latest row by producing what he described as "one of a series of letters" from FBI Director Hoover. McCarthy said Hoover had given repeated warnings of what the senator termed a "tremendously dangerous" situation involving security risks at the Ft. Monmouth radar laboratories.

Army counsel Joseph N. Welch protested it was improper for McCarthy to have such a letter-labeled "secret and confidential" in his possession, and declared it looked to him as if the senator was breaking the law.

The row over the letter was an offshoot of the original charges which brought on the investigation—the claim of Secretary of the Army Stevens that McCarthy and some of his aids sought favored Army treatment for Pvt. G. David Schine, and McCarthy's counterclaim that the Army tried to use Schine as a "hostage" to divert the senator from an investigation of alleged Communists in uniform.

Schine was a member of McCarthy's investigating staff before he was drafted.

Coleman Mentioned

McCarthy brought out the letter in cross-examination of Secretary of the Army Stevens, after suggesting that associates of atom spy Julius Rosenberg continued to do secret work at Ft. Monmouth long after the Army secretary took office.

Johnson was identified in the early stages of the 1952 national convention in Chicago with the preliminary developments leading to Stevenson's nomination. He accompanied Stevenson on his world-girdling tour.

Wilson Says:
Non-Troop Asian Aid Is Limited

Sending Forces To Depend On U.S. Allies

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN

WASHINGTON (INS)—Defense Secretary Charles A. Wilson said that the U. S. cannot greatly expand its help to Indo-China short of sending combat troops—and implied that action would hinge on participation by other countries.

In a news conference Wilson sparred with reporters over the probable extension of American intervention. In response to a question of whether it depends on what other countries do, he said:

"We are part of an alliance. We can't take sole responsibility for policing the whole world. It would be misunderstood—a and good policemen don't stay popular long."

At one point Wilson suggested that newsmen "see if Secretary of State John Foster Dulles brings some ideas back with him" from the Geneva conference.

Less Optimistic

The defense secretary declared: "We can't go much further without sending combat troops."

He indicated he is less optimistic now than previously about eventual success against the Communists unless the United States intervenes. Asked if he thinks the French can win, he said that he "had thought so" and added that he "does not have all the facts."

Meanwhile, a leading Republican senator conferred with President Eisenhower and reported the gist of their talk was that U. S. military intervention "might be useful and effective" if the people of Indo-China want all the facts."

Sen. Ralph Flanders (R-Vt.) emphasized after talking with Mr. Eisenhower that "I was glad to hear the President say no military operation would be undertaken alone (in Indo-China) unless it had the support of the people of the region—unless we were fighting for them."

"Munich"

Simultaneously Senate Majority Leader William F. Knowland charged that Britain and France apparently are ready to negotiate a "Far Eastern Munich" with the Communists on Indo-China.

Knowland warned that the Red Chinese demand for withdrawal of all foreign troops and bases from the Orient means "Asia for the Communists."

The report by Flanders was the most striking of a new series of statements that indicated the Eisenhower administration is giving renewed thought of direct and possibly singlehanded intervention now that efforts to arrange "united action" have suffered a setback.

Legislature Chasing Tail On Amendments, Laws

Dickenson Leaves After Sentencing

Williams' LB10 Action Is Delayed Until 'Rebuilt' LB4 Is Expedited

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

The special session of the Legislature put in a full day Tuesday during which the senators fumbled around with two bills and showed evidence that they have difficulty distinguishing between constitutional amendments and statutory laws.

Particularly the thinking of the 42 members present seemed at conflict on how to preserve uniformity of taxation on types of property that are not uniform. The result was that little, if any, progress was made.

After discussing briefly LB 10, the Williams bill to provide different assessments at state and county levels, the Legislature voted to hold it over until after action has been taken on LB 4.

Williams offered to withdraw the bill or move to kill it if assured that a committee would make a study of its provisions and report at the next session. He expressed the opinion that he was two years too early for such a proposal.

Sen. Liebers then proposed an amendment to his LB 4 providing that "the Legislature may prescribe standards and methods for the determination of the value of tangible property at uniform and proportionate values." This was approved by a 34 to 1 vote.

Provision Stricken

Stricken from his original proposal on motion of Sen. Dwight Burney and by a vote of 22 to 13 was a provision that the Legislature could "substitute for ad valorem taxes other taxes upon grain and seed produced or handled in this state."

Sen. Liebers pointed out that after Jan. 1 each year grain prices are forced down from 7 to 10 cents per bushel due to owners of grain pushing it to market before tax assessing date.

He also asserted that tax is paid on only 4 to 23 per cent of the 90,000,000 bushels of wheat grown in the state and on only 13 to 23 per cent of the 280,000,000 bushels of corn. He contended that his proposal would permit excise taxes to be imposed on each handler of this grain, thus spreading the tax as in surrounding states.

Burney contended it was class legislation and Liebers responded that the committee's aim was a "fair taxation program for Nebraska."

Plan Relied

Sen. Terry Carpenter said he considered the special session was called to plan relief from high real estate taxes. He introduced an amendment to permit a different method of taxing real estate from the present "actual value" provision.

His motion lost by an 11 to 23 vote.

He then sought to remove the "uniformity" provision in the Constitution and lost by a 13 to 23 vote.

Odham Support

In Florida, acting Sen. Charles E. Johns and state Sen. LeRoy Collins were forced into a run-off May 25 for Democratic nomination for governor. Collins promptly won the support of the third and losing candidate, Briley O'Gham.

Early returns from Indiana showed incumbent U. S. House members having opposition were running ahead.

The major fight in the Hoosier state, though, was between the GOP forces of Gov. George N. Craig and those of U. S. Sens. Homer E. Capchart and William E. Jenner for control of the Republican state organization. This involved about the election of 4,341 precinct committeemen and a like number of vice-committee men.

In New Mexico, where an unusually heavy vote was being recorded to the surprise of party leaders, the Republican race for governor held top interest. Republican Gov. Edwin Mechem and Sen. Clinton P. Anderson were unopposed for Senate nominations in their respective parties.

Dien Bien Phu's Defenses Shrink— New Strongpoint Is Lost; Crisis Mounts

French Position Grimmer As Reds Die By Scores In Capturing Post

By LARRY ALLEN

HANOI, Indo-China (AP)—Screaming Vietminh troops captured another important strongpoint Tuesday in an attack on shrinking Dien Bien Phu's western defenses, then beat off a determined French effort to retake the position.

It was one of the grimmer hours of nearly two months of incessant attacks on the French union fortresses by the besieging Red-led rebels.

Since Saturday night the rebels in human wave attacks have captured four strongpoints and part of a fifth. Tuesday's capture brought the besiegers ever nearer the heart of the northwest Indo-China fortress whose barbed wire and trench system, interlocked and laced with mines, has been steadily cut in area.

Cut Into Two Sections

It is now divided into two major sections: The main center commanded directly by Brig Gen Christian de Castries and the southern outpost strongpoint "Isabelle" whose artillery fire is still a major protection for the central bastion. It was at Isabelle that some of the outlying emplacements were seized over the week end, but without sharply reducing its firepower.

The strongpoint taken Tuesday was off the western edge of the main bastion. Isabelle, while cut off from direct communication, evidently is still a tough nut for the rebels. Instead of taking shelter under its protecting fire, it launched its own attack against Vietminh during the day and smashed a trench system.

The rebels, who had slackened their assault Sunday night after regrouping and refreshing their troops from the pounding they had been taking, launched an attack on Dien Bien Phu's western perimeter from newly won positions at 2 a.m.

Racing over the muddy battlefield which had been lashed by tropical rains, the Vietminh human tidal waves, which outnumbered the French union defenders 10 to 1, threw themselves against the barbed wire barricades.

Lincoln Woman, Hurt In Colorado, In 'Fair' Condition

A Lincoln woman was in fair condition Tuesday night following injuries received when the car in which she, her aunt and daughter were riding plunged into a gully near Sterling, Colo.

Mrs. Elda Atkins, 27, 3610 C is reported by the Associated Press to be suffering from a broken back, numerous cuts and abrasions about the face and head, and shock in a Sterling hospital.

Her daughter, Janice, 3, was reported in good condition. The aunt, Mrs. Cora Jose, 63, of Loma Linda, Calif., suffered skull and jaw fractures and was moved to a Denver hospital for special treatment.

The highway patrol said Mrs. Atkins lost control of the car and missed a bridge approach. The auto careened into a gully.

Mrs. Atkins suffered two fractured vertebrae, cuts and bruises. Janice Ray was only shaken up in the accident, but wandered into a nearby field in a state of shock. She was found about 30 minutes later in a howling snow storm, and was treated for exposure.

Auditorium Expert's Part-Time Aid During Building Possible

The possibility of Washington's auditorium expert, Benjamin Moore, being hired for consultation part time during the construction of Lincoln's building was brought out Tuesday at City Hall.

Moore, who is getting a fee of $125 a day for two days' consultation here, met again with members of the Citizen's Auditorium Advisory Committee.

It appeared that both members of the council and the special committee were in favor of recommendations made by Moore on the utility-type building he helped supervise both at Syracuse, N.Y., and Spokane where he is being employed as general manager. This type of building he said, would be suited both to sporting events and appearances of such organizations as symphonic orchestras.

Monday it was brought out that while the auditorium will be in open competition to such plants as the State Fair Grounds, plans could be worked out that would be in agreement to all parties. This was in specific relation to ice shows.

Ed Schultz, secretary of the Fair Board, said services for ice skating and ice shows would be incorporated in the new coliseum still in the planning stage for the Fair Grounds.

The considerations for a new type of utility building would mean the junking of the first plans drawn up for the city's auditorium. The new building would have a general arena with a large stage, at one end and would, according to local thinking, seat around 8,000 people.

A new type building also would mean the employment of an architectural firm, which the Council said it did not at the time have under direct consideration. There would also be involved the hiring of a general manager, or consultant, who would advise on the construction of the building in addition to the construction engineer.

The former job was mentioned in connection with Moore, who said the plan might work out if it could be handled along with his obligations with the Spokane auditorium which still is under construction.

'Lights On' Workers On Duty

Fireman Tom Simmons takes calls during the Cancer Fund "Lights On" campaign Tuesday night, as Julian S. Lyons, Lancaster County Drive chairman, and Don P. Harrington, Sr., "Lights On" chairman, watch. After the night's work, Lyons and Harrington issued a joint statement thanking Lincoln and

Lancaster County people for their "generous support" during the drive. The two also praised business firms and volunteer workers who "worked so diligently in the collection of funds." Anyone missed by a campaign solicitor may contact any Lincoln fire station to arrange for a donation. (Star Photo.)

'Reverse' Seen

GENEVA (INS)—French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault was reported Tuesday night to have told a group of French journalists he still believes in the "possibility" of American military aid to "reverse" the unfavorable military situation in Indo-China.

Bidault also was said to have expressed the belief that there is a reasonable chance that Brig Gen Christian de Castries can hold beleaguered Dien Bien Phu, French fortress which has been under Vietminh siege assault since March 13.

Packed-House Enjoys Rise Stevens In Symphony Finale

By RUTH ARDIS

Rise Stevens, famous mezzo soprano, climaxed this year's Lincoln Symphony concert series before a standing-room-only audience Tuesday night. A favorite of opera and concert lovers for 15 years, she brings a thrill to each new audience with her beautiful voice combined with her acting ability and stage personality, and that note of excitement was evident in the crowd at the Stuart Theater.

The varied program had been planned to appeal to every type of listener. Although Miss Stevens is definitely at her best in portraying operatic roles, her rendition of the spiritual "We're You There?" was outstanding.

The second group consisted of German lieder by four outstanding composers of the song-form.

Here again, Miss Stevens' expression and her actions created the atmosphere and delineated the character of the piece, "Elf-enlied" by Hugo Wolf was particularly charming.

Folk songs and contemporary works in a lighter vein were presented before the selections from "Carmen" which highlighted the program. Any concert would seem incomplete to Miss Stevens' fans without some excerpts from this, her most famous operatic role.

Changes in city busline service affecting the South 10th St. and State Hospital routes have been granted on a trial basis.

The State Railway Commission granted the change after request for such action from the City Lines.

At the same time, however, the commission ordered service restored on the Normal loop.

Request for the Hospital line change was made on the claim that the run was losing too much money.

The commission stated that the line will run from 10th and O St., south to F. west to 9th, south to South, east to 10th, and south to Van Dorn before returning downtown. This removes a former jog to 6th St. The hospital bus will now be run as an extension of this line.

The commission last year allowed the company to discontinue service over the Normal loop on grounds that the roads were too poor there. Residents, seeking reinstatement of the service, claim that roads have since been improved.

The Huskerville line change includes a revision of schedules and stops at Capitol Beach. The bus will now leave Lincoln on runs beginning at 12 noon until 11:30 p.m. on Sundays and holidays.

The

Mostest For The Least

Star Staffer Roy Campbell, temporarily filling in for Bill Dobler, now on vacation, came back to the office with word that Benjamin Moore, auditorium specialist from Spokane, made sense in his discussion of Lincoln's proposed auditorium.

Moore was talking as a hard-headed businessman with a background of experience in the field of auditorium uses. Although there have been no official disclosures in connection with his visit, it is understood that Mr. Moore looks with favor upon an arena as a part of auditorium facilities. The multiple-purpose theater and arena providing a maximum seating capacity of upwards of 6,500, as distinguished from the small capacity theater, lend themselves much more effectively to the presentation of road shows and other attractions. With adequate seating capacity, admission prices could be scaled downward, it was pointed out.

With Moore's views on record, and with all the other studies that have preceded them, it would appear that the city of Lincoln will be in a position to move ahead with full knowledge of its needs based upon present-day experience. And action is the important element at this time after all of these years of delay. If the auditorium is to be built, work should get under way in 1954.

There is good common sense in the attention being given to operating the auditorium development on a financially sound basis. What we want is the most useful plan at the minimum expense, particularly with an eye upon continuing usefulness and financially successful operation in the years ahead.

Uncertain Partnership

A friend outstate was in the office Tuesday to report feverish efforts to expand watershed organization in order to qualify for developments hoped for under the provisions of the Hope-Aiken bill.

The bill has passed the House with virtually no opposition. It seems bogged down in the Senate where greater attention is being centered upon some of its provisions.

Meanwhile the pilot test program is moving ahead, slowly, in the judgment of some; satisfactorily to others.

While the disappointment of districts interested in getting going is understandable, the fact remains that budget limitations under the present administration impose delay in providing more federal money.

The Hope bill deserves careful study. There could be no criticism of soil conservation practices as such—the argument arises only when zealous and over-enthusiastic spokesmen for SCS undertake to present the program as a cure-all to prevent flooding on the small tributaries upstream. That remains to be established over a period of time. The disputes did not make it clear recently whether a torrential 10½-inch rain in the Washita Basin in Oklahoma resulted in flooding in areas where the soil conservation program had been completed, although flooding along a 40-mile stretch of the stream did take place. That is perhaps not the most important consideration. Earlier that section of Oklahoma had suffered a most destructive drought, with the result that Washita was appealing to the Bureau of Reclamation to provide two huge storage dams to furnish water for domestic supply for seven communities, and irrigation for 26,000 irrigable acres. The one field still suggesting the need for extensive research involves the building of underground water supplies.

Until there is more evidence on that point, coupled with additional experience in the matter of flood control, Congress, it would seem, will be well advised to give additional study to the Hope bill.

Go A Little Slowly

By J. E. LAWRENCE

How much is American prestige abroad being damaged (a) by the seeming confusion of U.S. policy in Indo-China; and (b) by the McCarthy-Army "whodunit"?

The answer to (b) is not difficult. Measured on the basis of damage to American prestige here at home, the outcome of the hearings in the quarrel between Sen. McCarthy and the Army must be considerable. Thus far the performance has been so silly, so useless, and in the eyes of a great many homespun Americans, so completely disillusioning. The regrettable thing is that, having turned it on, there seems to be no clearcut way of turning it off without Sen. McCarthy's emerging triumphant in this joust with the military. And the latter give no indication of retreating. In between what appears to be an unnecessarily long-drawn-out proceeding marked with interminable exchanges between counsel the public is fed up. A portion of it has reached the conclusion that there is nothing to be gained by continuing the proceedings and the whole matter should be dropped. In that event, the administration can conclude that Sen. McCarthy will be a continuing irritant for some time to come if he chooses to pursue his past practices. Shakespeare once wrote a play, "Much Ado About Nothing." That hardly fits the original developments which led up to the present farce. Back of all of it is the administration's understandable desire for harmony in the ranks, when any realistic appraisal must have led to the simple realization that there was no basis for harmony.

Sen. Knowland's contribution to discussion of Indo-China only tosses additional fuel on the flames. As majority leader in the Senate, entrust in a general sense with carrying out the President's program in the upper branch of Congress, what Sen. Knowland had to say about leading the Senate fight to send American troops to Indo-China in the event the President decides it is necessary, may be the expression only of his own views but nevertheless, occupying the post which he does, many people will assume he speaks for the administration.

Full, open discussion is a welcome part of the American way of reaching decision but obviously American policy towards Indo-China has been confused because too many people are talking. One day the President himself seeks to soften the anxieties and worries over the possibility of military intervention in Indo-China. The next day some of the men close to him put their fingers in and talk in directly the opposite spirit. Knowland's position on the Far East is well known. He consistently has insisted upon greater firmness in the Orient. Now, whatever his views may be are entitled to full expression, but a sobering sense of responsibility must at all times be attached to them. Churchill in his opposition to military intervention in Indo-China must know the temper of his own people. And it has been Churchill primarily who has been countering the course of moderation in recent weeks. For the time being, except when circumstances force him to speak out, the President seems content to let others do the talking. Hence this confusion which must puzzle millions abroad even as it does millions here at home, who slowly are coming to the conclusion that foreign policy is a matter of day-by-day development and not any long, carefully thought out program.

The Russians who have lately taken a copyright on all of the world's inventions have slipped. Lately they proudly announced another first—a tandem bicycle. By some mistake in history, Americans were tooling around on bicycles built for two at the turn of the century. We suggest as a way out of this embarrassment Russia just sit down and invent the 20th century. That will avoid all of these little mix-ups.

At The Source

Colorado and southwestern states are taking steps to recover from last winter's drought and dust storms. They want to save whatever topsoil is left, perhaps get a little back where it came from. It is all right to make local applications but some think the trouble didn't start out in the Southwest. They think if Congress would stop its continual hearings, the wind would go down and so would soil erosion.

By some mistake in history, Americans were tooling around on bicycles built for two at the turn of the century. It's New... It's The Only Gasoline With All The Extras!

with UCL-plus

Twenty years ago we introduced one of history's first gasoline additives, the famous D-X upper-cylinder lubricant. Now, after two decades of research, we present the all-inclusive gasoline additive—UCL-plus. A totally new, specially processed upper-cylinder lubricant fortified with exclusive chemical ingredients, it's yours only in D-X. That's why D-X alone gives you all the extras!

EXTRA protection!—Our new D-X Ethyl with UCL-plus gives your engine super top-cylinder lubrication for protection against wear. It helps prevent spark plug fouling, practically eliminates fuel-wasting pre-ignition!

EXTRA antiknock!—More antiknock is refined into new D-X Ethyl at the start. After the refining process the antiknock is boosted still higher with exclusive UCL-plus!

EXTRA mileage—Check your speedometer when you first try new D-X. Check again when you refill. You'll find D-X adds up to better mileage, because it makes your engine more efficient than you ever thought possible.

EXTRA performance—Faster starts, more pickup, more passing power—you've never felt the kind of performance you'll get from your engine with this new D-X.

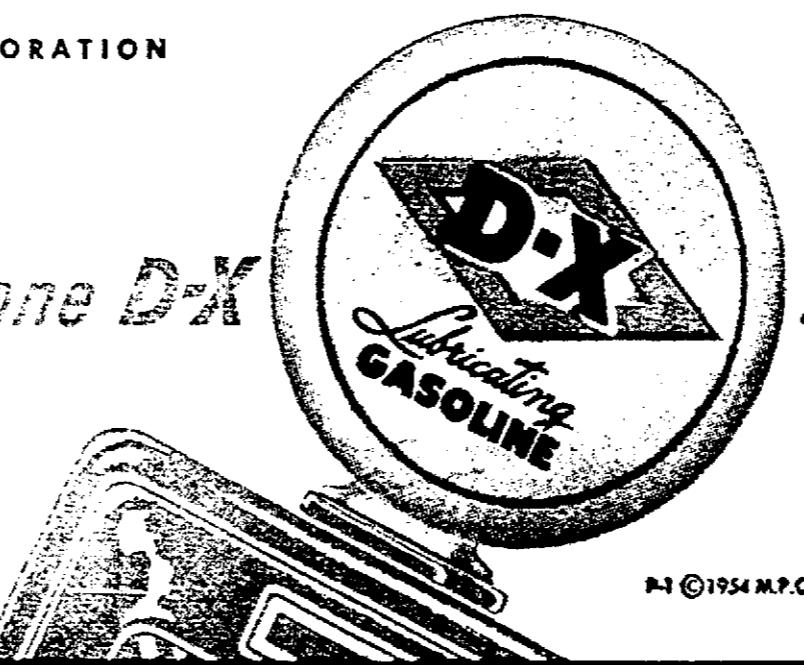

WE GUARANTEE IT—You must get all these extras and more in new D-X, or we'll refund your money. Accept our written, signed Trial Bond guarantee. Then try the only gasoline with all the extras, D-X Ethyl with UCL-plus!

Everybody Talks—In Interest Of Speed

By ARTHUR EDSON
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Potter (R-Mich) leaned toward the microphone, grinned and said:

"This seems to be the morning for testimonials."

That's the one statement at Tuesday's Army-McCarthy hearing that appears beyond dispute.

Everybody got into the testifying act.

On a day when the committee members were wondering if they couldn't cut down on the number of witnesses, they complicated the problem by turning witnesses themselves.

ST. JOSEPH ASPIRIN FOR CHILDREN
WORLD'S LARGEST SELLING ASPIRIN FOR CHILDREN

All in the interests of speed, you understand.

The most familiar line was: "I want to hurry this hearing along, but—."

Let's look at some of the oratory:

Sen. Dirksen (D-Ill), explaining how he hoped to have the witnesses limited to two, Secretary of the Army Stevens and Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis).

"The role of the peace-maker is never a happy one, and yet I have been impelled . . ."

Weatherman

Joseph Welch, the Army's counsel, explaining that he would also like to hear from Roy Cohn and Francis Carr of McCarthy's staff, and, possibly, the weatherman:

"If I may put an example, suppose one of those witnesses said that we had a rainy day on a certain date, and it seemed very material to show it was a fair day. I would like to be able to call the weatherman to show what the weather was."

Sen. Symington (D-Mo): "In my opinion these hearings should never have been started, but . . ." Symington wound his speech up like commencement speaker. "I thank you," he said.

So it went, on down the list, each senator making his speech. Sen. Jackson (D-Wash) appeared the best prepared. He had his written out.

Hearing Monster

And if each senator wanted to make plain he was on the side of speed, he seemed equally desirous of making sure no one thinks he had a hand in giving birth to this monster of a hearing, now in its ninth day.

Potter was the most blunt in this approach.

"I did not pull the trigger for this hearing," he said.

Possibly the highest oratorical heights were reached by Ray Jenkins, the committee counsel from Tennessee.

He began routinely enough, "I feel impelled at this time to make a statement." But he was soon soaring.

"The undercurrents of the emotionalism of the people are so swift and so strong as to in my mind in many instances almost dethrone reason from its citadel."

Nevertheless, he said, if the committee decided to carry on, it could count on Ray Jenkins.

"The faithful members of my staff," he said, "will be here assisting in our humble way in the exposition of the facts as long as there is breath in our bodies."

Iowa Price War Cuts Gas Price To 21 Cent Mark

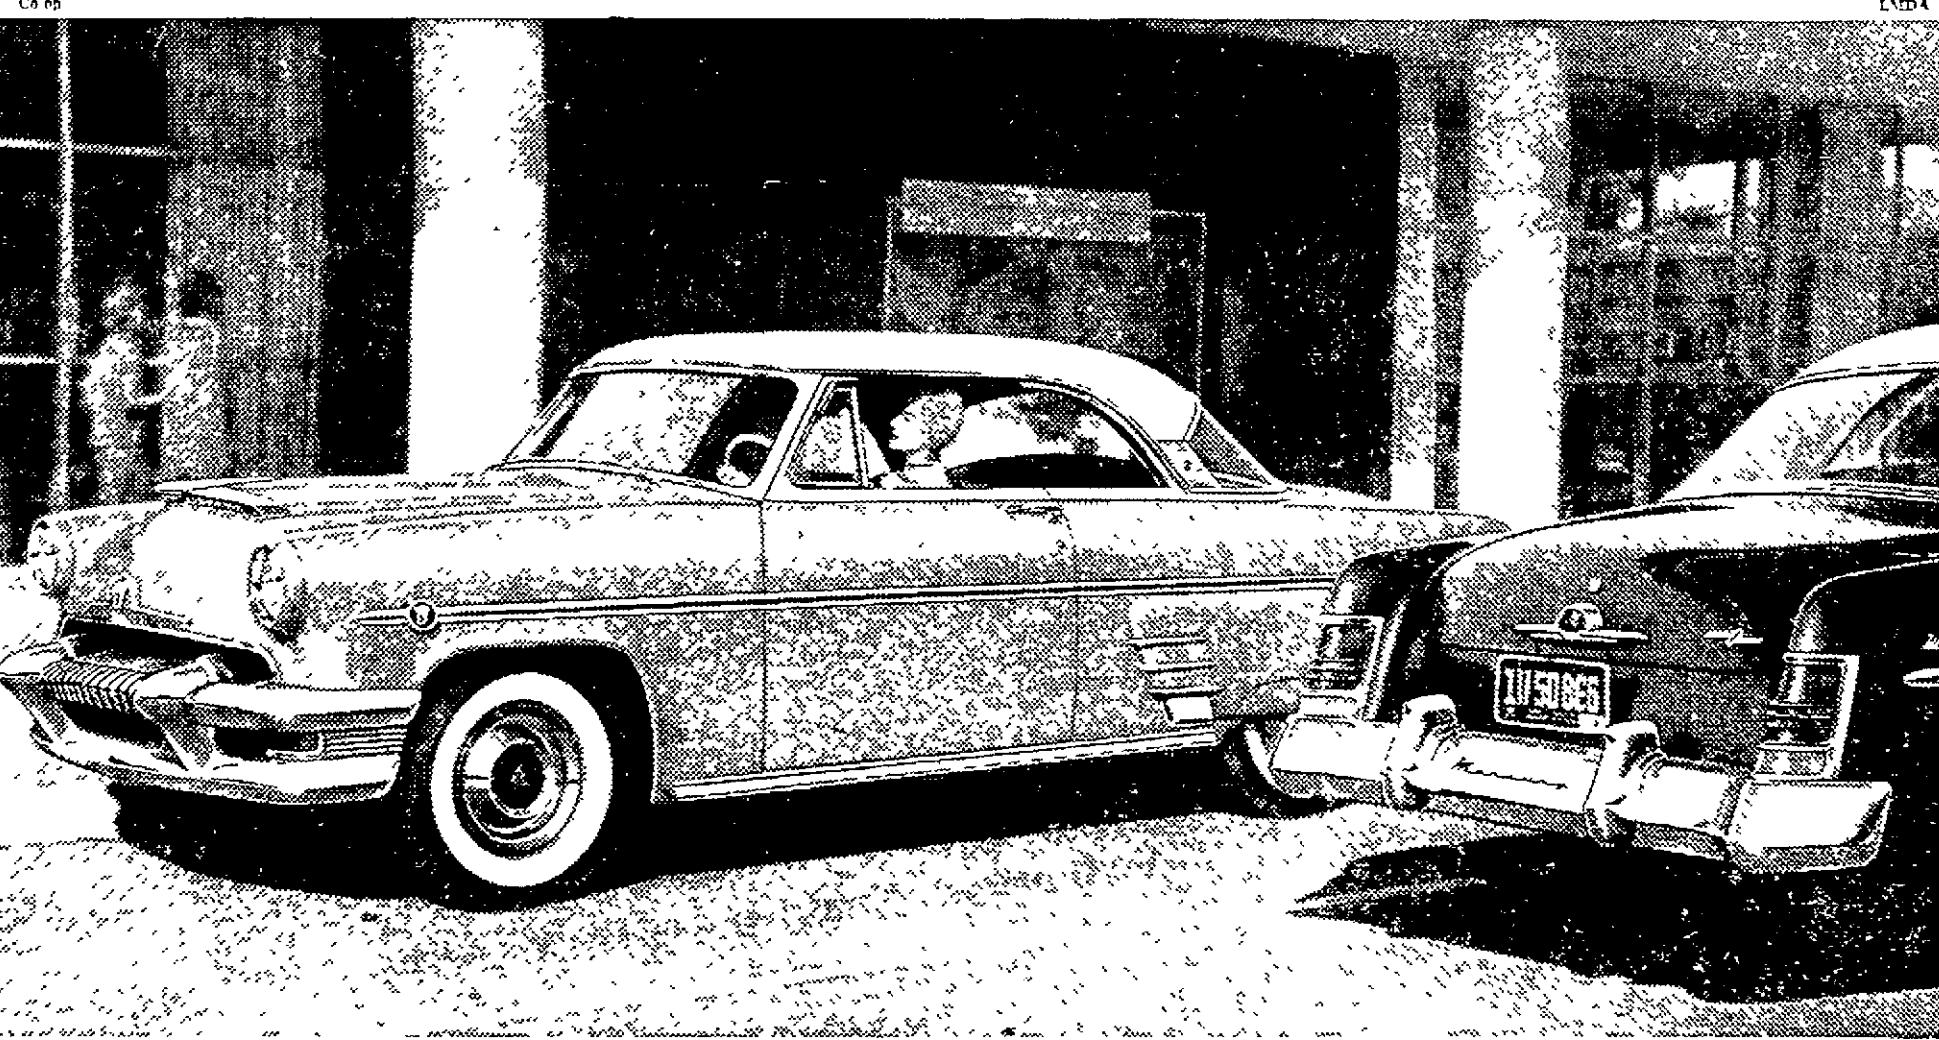

CARROLL, Ia. (AP) — Regular gasoline was selling at 21 cents a gallon at virtually all major and independent service stations here as a result of a price war which lowered prices by 8 cents a gallon.

One independent was selling gas for 20 cents a gallon.

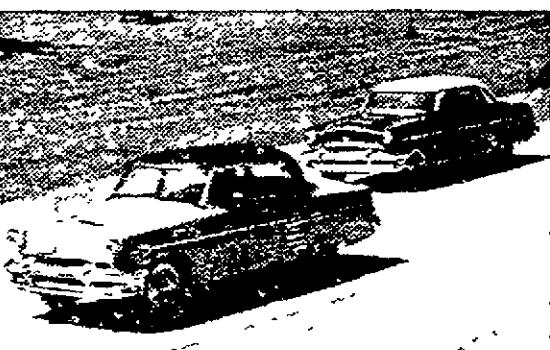

There were indications that the price might go even lower. For the most part, the price of premium gasoline was not affected greatly. Premium was selling at 29 to 31½ cents a gallon. At least one independent, however, was selling premium gasoline at 21 cents.

The first price-cutting occurred several days ago by an independent.

Reclamation Bureau Commissioner W. A. Dexheimer was scheduled to deliver a banquet address Wednesday evening but Congressional budget hearings in Washington have forced him to cancel what would have been his first official appearance before the Inter-Agency Committee.

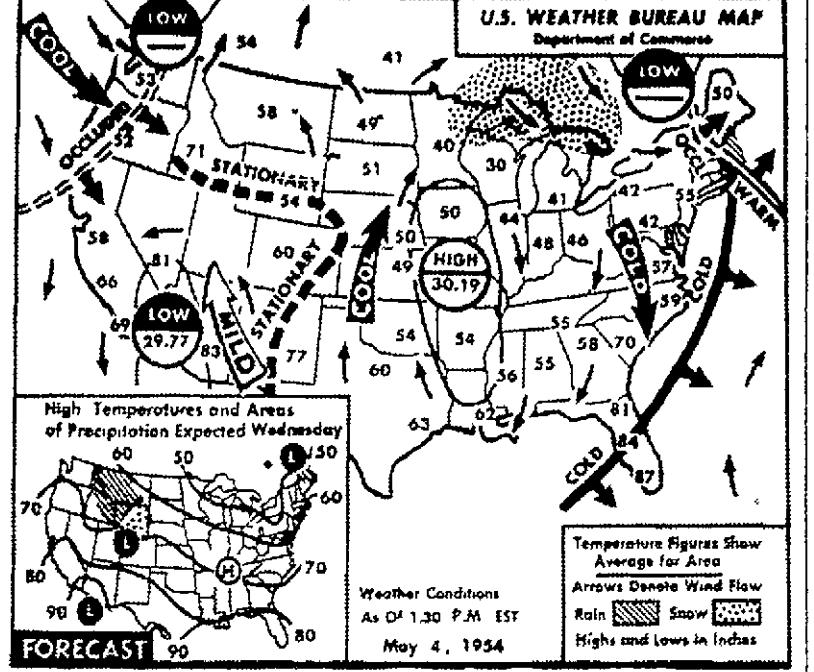

Several Missouri Basin states governors including Gov. Robert B. Crosby of Nebraska will attend.

Subjects will include reports on availability and use of ground water resources in Nebraska and a discussion of a western Nebraska watershed development program.

Team Working On First Day Stamp Orders

NEBRASKA CITY, Neb. (AP)—Mail by the basketful is being processed at the Nebraska City post office in preparation for issuance of the Nebraska territorial centennial commemorative stamp here Friday.

R. A. Davis, an administrative assistant in the division of philately, bureau of finance, post office department, is in charge of the team of men and women working on the project.

Stamp collectors and others are permitted to send money for postage along with a "reasonable number" of addressed first day covers. Davis and his workers do the rest.

Paul Brust, assistant Nebraska City postmaster, said that some people have interpreted a "reasonable number" to be anywhere from 250 to 500.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars auxiliary here Friday will affix 30,000 of the stamps to first day covers, Mrs. Arthur Sackles, president, said.

The auxiliary has been employed by a Baltimore, Md., advertising firm to process the covers. Mrs. Sackles will buy $900 worth of stamps when the windows open at 7 a.m. Friday for first day sales.

Gen. Griswold Arrives At SAC Headquarters

OMAHA (AP)—Gen. Francis H. Griswold arrived Tuesday at Strategic Air Command headquarters at Offutt Air Force base to take over his duties as SAC vice commander.

He succeeds Maj. Gen. Thomas S. Power, now a lieutenant general in charge of air research and development command at Baltimore. Gen. Griswold was previously in England where he was commander of the Third Air Force.

Excess Wheat Penalty Told

Nebraska farmers who have exceeded their acreage allotments on wheat can now figure out how much penalty they will have to pay if they decide to market the grain this year.

Officials of the State Office of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee announced Tuesday that the marketing penalty for wheat from excess acres will amount to $1.12 a bushel. Charlie Clark, specialist at the ASC office, said that under the federal Marketing Quota Law, the penalty rate on excess wheat is 43 per cent of the May 1 parity price. The 45 per cent portion of this parity has been determined to be $1.12.

The figure is based on normal yield. Therefore, if a farmer plants 10 acres in excess of his quota, and the normal yield in his area is 20 bushels per acre, the penalty will be 200 multiplied by $1.12. Clark said the farmer can escape paying the penalty if he stores the grain on his farm or in a warehouse. Such wheat will have to be kept at least until July 1, 1955. The marketing penalty is equally in force if the farmer sells the grain to an elevator or to another farmer.

Whoever buys the excess grain, Clark said, is responsible for payment of the penalty.

Mrs. Keeler Gets $1,000 Scholarship

This Silver Anniversary Scholarship is being given by each state association of Delta Kappa Gamma, national honorary society for outstanding women educators, for study beyond the Masters Degree. Mrs. Keeler is vice president of the local chapter and a member of a national committee on teacher welfare and morale.

Mrs. Keeler was the 1953 chairman of the National Association of Teacher Educators of the American Vocational Association meeting in Chicago. She is also chairman of the Department of Colleges and Universities in the Nebraska Home Economics Association. She is active in other campus, state, and national associations.

Mrs. Keeler plans to continue graduate work in educational psychology and guidance at Colorado State College of Education this summer.

The auxiliary has been employed by a Baltimore, Md., advertising firm to process the covers. Mrs. Sackles will buy $900 worth of stamps when the windows open at 7 a.m. Friday for first day sales.

Gen. Griswold will offer the response.

Ban On Sod-Breaking Is Under Study

Davis Asks Soil Saving Fund Boost

WASHINGTON (AP)—The possibility of preventing future dust storms by making it illegal to break sod in arid areas that are subject to blowing was explored at a Senate hearing Tuesday.

Sen. Hayden (D-Ariz.) asked if any federal or state laws now could be utilized to prevent wind erosion. He raised the point at a hearing of the Senate Appropriations Committee on the annual agricultural money bill.

Clarence Svedman of Ft. Collins, Colo., one of several witnesses from the Dust Bowl area, said Colorado now has such a law but it requires approval of 75 per cent of the land owners within a district for enforcement.

Absentees Oppose

"And that's almost an impossibility with absentee owners holding much of the land," Svedman said.

Sen. Young (R-ND), presiding, asked if high government price supports on wheat and other crops had caused dust storms as some have charged.

A. P. Atkins of Guymon, Okla., in the Panhandle area, hard hit by drought and dust storms, said good wheat prices had caused the breakup of much land "that never should have been cultivated."

Svedman and Atkins are directors of the National Association of Soil Conservation Districts.

They and Waters S. Davis Jr. of League City, Tex., president of the conservation group, urged senators to add about 18 million dollars to the 58 millions voted by the House for the Agriculture Department's annual soil conservation program.

Meanwhile, President Eisenhower allocated $10,000,000 from his disaster relief fund to help combat Dust Bowl conditions in the Southwest.

The sum was $5,000,000 less than asked by governors of the five Southwest states—Colorado, Kansas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas. They attended an emergency meeting at the White House last week.

Whip The Tormenting Twins Dandruff And Itchy Scalp

OTTUMWA, Iowa—Owen P. Williams, 905 S. James St., says: "A bad case of dandruff and itchy scalp was driving me almost wild when I got my first bottle of Baker's Hair Tonic. I could not relax night or day, because of the awful itching, and I was always covered with dandruff. Baker's Hair Tonic changed all that, and I want everybody to know there is nothing like it for dandruff and itchy scalp."

For dandruff and itchy scalp, use Baker's Hair Tonic. For clean scalp and lustrous hair, use Baker's Shampoo. Buy them where you trade. You will like both, or the makers will refund your money.—Adv.

Nebraska Farm Prices Record 3 Pct. Increase

Prices which Nebraska farmers received for their products during the month ending April 15 showed a 3 per cent increase, led by higher prices for wheat, corn, potatoes, soybeans and some livestock.

The State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics announced in a mid-month price report that the 3 per cent Nebraska increase compared with a 1 per cent boost for the nation's farmers as a whole.

The national farm parity level—farm prices received compared with prices of things which farmers must buy—remained unchanged for the month, however.

As a result of the Nebraska increase, the April 15 price index stood at 298 per cent of the 1909-14 base period.

The April 15 level was 9 points above the March 15 index, and 18 points above the level of a year earlier.

For the nation as a whole, the increase was 1 point, or 4/10 of 1 per cent.

Increases for wheat, corn, potatoes, grain, sorghums, soybeans, hogs, beef cattle and lambs more than offset decreases for barley, rye, hay, calves, sheep, butterfat, milk and eggs, the agency reported.

Average prices for crops were up 1 per cent; for livestock and livestock products, up 3 per cent.

Price averages as of April 15, compared with those a month earlier, included:

Wheat: $2.13, up 2 cents and the highest so far this marketing season (which ends July 1).

Corn: $1.40 per bushel, up 3 cents.

Oats: unchanged at 77 cents.

Proposed Rural Fire District Turned Down

SUPERIOR, Neb. (AP)—A proposed rural fire district in the Superior area was defeated in an election, 30 to 26.

The county commissioners had called the election after 161 of 226 eligible voters in the proposed district had petitioned for the vote.

Beef cattle prices averaged $1 higher to $20.10 a hundred, highest since December of 1952. Calf prices dropped $1, however, to $18.20, lowest mid-April price since 1946.

Sheep prices were 40 cents lower as a result of seasonal factors and lower government support rates. Wholesale milk was 35 cents below the revised March 15 level of $4.20 per hundred weight, while butterfat declined six cents to 53 cents. Poultry and egg prices declined 10 per cent due to lower prices for eggs, down 5.6 cents per dozen to an April 15 level of 26.4 cents.

Dairy product prices were lower as a result of seasonal factors and lower government support rates. Wholesale milk was 35 cents below the revised March 15 level of $4.20 per hundred weight, while butterfat declined six cents to 53 cents. Poultry and egg prices declined 10 per cent due to lower prices for eggs, down 5.6 cents per dozen to an April 15 level of 26.4 cents.

Snow Covering Lessened Wheat Freezing Danger

A covering of snow minimized the danger of damage to the wheat crop from the week end's hard freeze in Nebraska, the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics reported.

Fortunately, much of the wheat in the lower temperature areas received the snow protection, the weekly crop report said.

Although wheat is farther advanced than usual for this date, little of it has jointed, which further reduced the chance for damage from freezing.

Surface Supply 'Good'

Recent rains, meanwhile, replenished subsoil moisture appreciably in northern and eastern Nebraska, and the surface moisture supply is now "very good."

Except for wheat that was damaged by wind and drought, and that which came up this spring, the crop made "considerable improvement" during the past week.

Kimball County and several southwestern counties show severe damage, chiefly from dry weather and high winds, but also from mosaics.

Fields Turning Brown

In a few western counties, some fields have begun to turn brown, showing the effects of drought. Most of these are fields with heavy growth where heavy stocking has used most of the subsoil moisture.

A little corn has been planted. Most fields are ready for planting and farmers now are hoping for warmer weather.

Oats and barley are up, and about unchanged in condition from a week ago.

Alfalfa, wild hay and pasture show improvement, although there was some winter kill of fall-seeded alfalfa and some fear done to spring-seeded alfalfa of what the freeze may have done.

Some cattle are now on range and pasture.

April was slightly warmer than normal, the report noted. Moisture was deficient over most of the western and south-central portions of the state, and near normal over most of the eastern and north-central portions. A small area along the Missouri River received more than normal rainfall.

From April 1 to May 3, precipitation in Eastern Nebraska averaged 1.93 inch, compared with a normal of 2.26; in central Nebraska 1.57, compared to normal of 2.44, and in western Nebraska .96 of an inch, compared to a normal 2.11 inches.

The northern half of Nebraska has a far better supply of subsoil moisture than has the southern half.

Weather Bureau precipitation reports for the week ending May 3:

STAN DELAPLANE'S

POSTCARD

Sunday is the best day to go up to the Place du Tertre. The sunny little square lies in a cobblestone street. Surrounded by wine shops, artists and tourists.

The buildings sag on ancient foundations. The whole scene looks like a stage set.

When I arrived, a goat was climbing a red ladder with a monkey on his back.

My young lady of 10 years was bug-eyed. This is the Paris she came to see.

The Place du Tertre is surrounded by artistic taverns. Such as Le Grenier, the Cadet Gascogne and Patachou where the patrons join in the chorus of off-color sal-de-garde songs.

On Sunday, restaurants like La Mere Catherine and Chez Eugene set up tables in the square under the trees. Somebody ran a long wire through the street and up into an apartment. And when they turned on the record player, so help me it was Leadbelly.

Half dozen artists had set up easels in the streets. They wore turtle-neck sweaters and were artistically dirty. They stabbed at the canvas with palette knives and with fingers. It is not artistic to use a brush, I guess.

In the center of the square, a gentleman performed rapid cuts on paper with scissors. When he unfolded it, it became a complicated lace pattern table-cloth.

Everybody drank wine and clapped. The monkey got off the goat's back. The goat climbed down the ladder and went into La Mere Catherine's. Possibly for a short one before lunch.

The goat-and-monkey man and the tablecloth man passed among the crowd, holding out their hats for money.

The sun came down warm. And the waitress from Chez Eugene's brought us a little turquoise pottery pitcher full of chilled Alsation wine.

Lincolnites Attend Goodyear Wage Meeting In Ohio

Two Lincoln men are attending wage negotiations which opened Tuesday in Canton, O., between the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. and the CIO United Rubber Workers.

Personnel Manager A. A. Werner of the local Goodyear plant here and the president of the union's Local 286, Raleigh Owens, are among those participating.

A contract in effect between the company and union does not expire until Feb. 10, 1955, but has wage reopeners provisions.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republican leader in the Senate, Sen. Knowland of California, said he favored amending the Taft-Hartley Labor Law to give States more power to control labor-management relations.

Knowland announced he would support a controversial States' Right Amendment sponsored by Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz) and that he was "inclined to believe" it would be adopted by the Senate.

The Goldwater amendment is one of a series being debated by the Senate as it considers President Eisenhower's proposals to revise the Taft-Hartley Act and "reinforce its basic objectives."

There is a disagreement among senators as to how much power the Goldwater proposal would give to states to write and enforce their own labor laws, particularly if they conflicted with federal statutes.

Full Sympathy

But Knowland said he is in full sympathy with the proposition expressed by Goldwater—that states should have full control of all labor legislation.

Except in the case of national strike emergencies, Knowland said, the federal government should stay out of this field. He added that Congress should try to solve the problems of labor and management "without concentrating power in Washington."

Sen. Purtell (R-Conn) meanwhile introduced an amendment carrying out Eisenhower's proposal for secret, government-conducted strike votes of employees in advance of any walkout.

The Senate Labor Committee had been unable to agree on a strike vote clause. At least two Republicans and all four Democrats on the committee opposed all suggestions studied.

Purtell's measure would compel the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) to take a secret ballot of all employees in the bargaining unit affected by the labor dispute. Unless "a majority of the employees voting" said they favored a strike, the strike would not be a protected activity.

That means a union which calls a strike despite a negative vote would lose the services of the NLRB, and its status as collective bargaining agent of employees, for a period of one year.

Purtell's amendment would allow the NLRB to utilize the services of federal, state or local agencies in conducting the strike ballot. An affirmative vote would be good only for 30 days.

The measure is certain to meet stiff resistance from Northern and Western Democrats and from some Republicans who say it would constitute an interference with the right to strike.

Some other Republicans, as well as some Southern Democrats, are likely to oppose it on the ground that a majority of all employees eligible to vote, rather than a simple majority of those who choose to vote, should vote affirmatively before a strike could take place.

Another point of contention in the debate may be proposals by Sens. Lehman (D-Lib-NY) and Ives (R-NY) to amend the Taft-Hartley Law so that it would be an unfair labor practice for either a union or an employer to discriminate against any employee because of race, creed, color or national origin.

Knighthood Of Youth Banquet Hears Dr. White Stress 'Worthy Workman'

To be a success a person should be a "worthy workman," Dr. C. Vin White, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, told the 23rd annual Knighthood of Youth banquet Tuesday night at the Lincoln Hotel.

Five hundred persons attended the banquet as guests of Nathan J. Gold. The dinner was given for honor students of the various citizenship clubs in Lancaster County schools, their parents and teachers.

Dr. White said that "a person must realize that success is in direct relation to his discipline." Along with discipline he emphasized the importance of being a "good person."

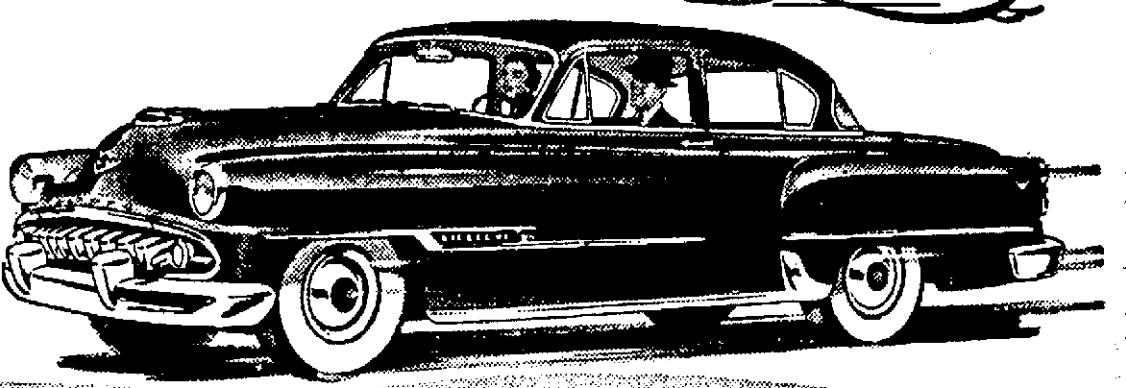

In outlining what actually made a person a worthy workman he cited three things as being of prime importance: being intellectually sound, spiritually stable and morally responsible. "These are the qualities that produce the worthy workman," he said.

Mayor Clark Jeary welcomed the group and a response from the students was given by Carol Andelt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Andelt of Malcolm. Special guests at the banquet were Freeman B. Decker, superintendent of public instruction, and Dr. Edith C. Greer, state director of elementary education.

Fleeding, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often tell-tale signs of Pin-Worms... tiny parasites that medical experts say infect over 100 million Americans. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P.W. Vermicide does... and better. How does it do it?

First, a special capsule capsule takes the tablets into the bowel before they dissolve. Then Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Brownell Halted From Listing Lawyers Guild As Subversive

WASHINGTON (P)—The National Lawyers Guild won a court order preventing Atty. Gen. Brownell, temporarily at least, from taking steps toward listing the Guild as subversive. The U.S. Court of Appeals, by a 2-1 vote, said "interests of justice would be served best" by holding in abeyance a hearing ordered by Brownell until the legal issues can be threshed out in U.S. District Court.

Brownell first announced he proposed to list the lawyers guild as subversive in a speech before the American Bar Association in Boston last August. He called the guild the legal mouthpiece of the Communist Party.

Instead of showing up for a hearing on the issue, the guild went to court. U.S. District Judge Richmond B. Keech rejected an application for an injunction.

McGuire said the guild's claim

The Court of Appeals in its irreparable injury "may never have been heard on its merits in the lower court."

"We suggest to the District Court that, if the calendar of its business permits, the public interest would be served if this action could be determined at an early date," the Court of Appeals said.

The lawyers guild not only has entered a general denial that it serves as the legal mouthpiece of the Communist Party, but contends Brownell has prejudged the case.

U.S. District Judge Matthew F. McGuire, who sat with the Court of Appeals and heard the case along with appeals Judges Wilbur K. Miller and E. Barrett Prettyman, dissented.

McGuire said the guild's claim

Hans Holds King Gagne To Draw

By BILL FITZGERALD
Star Sports Staff Member
Hans Schmidt, "the man without a friend," Tuesday night endeared himself to no one in the Fairgrounds Arena, but the man from the Rhine Island almost won the United States wrestling championship from the People's Delight, Vern Gagne, before a packed house.

The handsome champion from the banks of Lake Superior bathed his way off the concrete floor below Prof. Adam Krieger's wrestling ring and pounded Schmidt through the last fall of the match to achieve a draw with the challenger who came very close to the title but failed once again.

Schmidt won the first fall in 24 minutes. He stunned Gagne with knees and right hands to the head and body and attempted to strangle the champion with a towel which fell within his reach.

Referee Joe Krejci of Omaha was assailed by the choicest words of the largest crowd in many years. The noise could have been greater only if those fans who were turned away at the door had been able to get inside.

The pin was achieved with a body press following a back-breaker.

Gagne came back to absorb more punishment before he seized Schmidt with his sleeping hold and rocked the big European to sleep at 21:10.

In that fall Gagne once again was kicked out of the ring and suffered heavy punishment as he attempted to re-enter.

Schmidt repelled the Minnesotan with slugging and kicking and twice sent the champion reeling up the aisle of Section "B" while the reserve seat fans got a good look at the idol of the wrestling world.

A slamming round-house right to Schmidt's jaw started the German wobbling and he never regained his equilibrium until Gagne released his limp body in the center of the mat following the sleeper.

Time ran out on the third heat but Gagne carried the match an extra minute and slammed Schmidt about the ring in a gesture of his resentment toward his opponent.

Jim Coffield and Joe Dusek drew in one preliminary, and Jack Pesek, heading for Australia following the match, pinned Frank Marconi in 16:40 and 2:43 in the other go.

Perhaps the announcer expressed the sentiments of the Arena crowd Tuesday night when, in reference to the shower of debris into the ring in search of Schmidt, he pleaded: "Please don't throw anything into the ring. You may hit the wrong person."

Records Fall In Clusters At Doane Meet

Lincoln Star Special
CRETE—Marion Hudson of Dana was the individual star as athletes from 26 colleges and junior colleges representing six states made a large-scale assault on the Doane Relays records here Tuesday.

Hudson, a sophomore star from Blair's Dana College, won the 100 yard dash, the broad jump and tied for first in the high jump. He set a new record in the broad jump.

Nebraska college athletes scored heavily in the college division, but Creighton's invaders from Kansas dominated the junior college events.

Lee Loewen of Mankato, Minn., Teachers turned in the day's best performance, getting over the high hurdles in a record 11.8 during the morning preliminaries. However, he lost to Omaha U's Bill Burke in the finals.

Miss Betty Weed of Doane was crowned queen of the 1954 Doane Relays in ceremonies held at the night session of the meet. A mass band concert was presented by 750 high school musicians.

Sauer-Bauer Confusion Cleared But Yanks Mad

By The Associated Press

New York Yankee officials Tuesday charged the House Armed Services Committee with "recklessly bandying around names" and "placing innocent persons under a cloud" following its listing of athletes' names including that of Yankee Outfielder Hank Bauer, as having been condemned by the Army.

Rep. Hess (R-O) later corrected the list, naming Hank Bauer, Chicago Cubs outfielder instead of Bauer, a Purple Heart Marine veteran of World War II, but that failed to pacify the Yankees.

"It seems shame," one Yankee official vehemently declared, "that responsible people in Washington should so recklessly bandy around names and place innocent persons under a cloud without checking thoroughly."

Yankee General Manager George Weiss was so disturbed by the subcommittee's release of Bauer's name that he called a press conference and delivered a written statement giving Bauer's service record in detail. It showed that Bauer served four years in the Marines, from 1942 through 1945, earned 11 campaign ribbons, two Purple Hearts, two Bronze Stars and took part in four island invasions in the South Pacific.

"It is felt by the Yankees," Weiss' statement read, "that the fact Bauer had been included deserves an immediate and complete retraction by those persons involved."

Hess listed 10 new names Tuesday, including Ollie Matson, former All-America football player, as figures in the investigation.

The sports list now totals 20. Hess said complaints have also been made that singers Eddie Fisher and Vic Damone were given special consideration while serving in the armed forces.

Altogether, he said, the subcommittee has received reports on about 100 well-known persons, mostly athletes.

Emphasizing that the athletes themselves are not under suspicion, Hess said the Army informed him it has decided to keep a close check on sports figures, as they are inducted and assigned to military duties "to

State REA Fight Breaks Into Open; Resignation Of Clema Is Demanded

A sharp division among Nebraska's Rural Electrification districts broke into the open when a group of district officers publicly demanded the resignation of John Clema. Clema, the past three years executive secretary of the Nebraska Rural Electric Association, charged him with activity in behalf of Consumers. REA directors several weeks ago voted 19 to 7 to support NPPS construction of a $17,600,000 plant near Beatrice.

The vote plus the subsequent sale of the NPPS bonds resulted in, (1) a lawsuit by the Custer County PPD and others to upset the sale and, (2) a move to unseat Clema. Opponents of Clema charged him with activity in behalf of Consumers. REA directors several weeks ago voted 19 to 7 to support NPPS construction of a $17,600,000 plant near Beatrice.

The latter reached the REA's executive board two weeks ago where a deadlock sent the Clema matter to the general board meeting this week. Action there was stymied when less than the two-thirds membership required for a quorum appeared.

Democratic Party Chiefs Gather In Washington For National Conference

Wednesday, May 5, 1954 THE LINCOLN STAR 21

... Truman To Spark Comeback Plans

By ROBERT G. NIXON

WASHINGTON (INS) — Democratic Party bosses began gathering in the nation's capital to blueprint strategy for the battle this fall for control of Congress.

The Democrats on Wednesday open their first national conference in Washington since the party's defeat in 1952.

Former President Harry S. Truman will spark the party's comeback plan.

Adlai Stevenson, Democratic presidential candidate in the last election, was reported to have been ordered by physicians not to attend.

Patron Saints

The two-day conference of the Democratic National Committee, and discussions by Democratic leaders, will be climaxed Thursday night by a $100-a-plate Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner, honoring the party's patron saints.

Democratic leaders on Capitol Hill will be given the spotlight in the panel discussions and dinner speeches because the November election is a fight for congressional seats. Funds raised at the dinners will be used in financing the November campaign.

In the House, there are 219 Republicans, 215 Democrats and one Independent. The Senate lineup is 48 Democrats, 47 Republicans and one Independent.

The Democratic National Committee meets at 1 p.m. CST Wednesday to "bring the party platform up to date."

Heavy Attack

There were indications that administration policy on Indo-China and the Far East may come under fire of the Democrats.

Republican farm and economic policies are also being heavily attacked by the Democrats.

Truman will arrive in Washington at 11:05 a.m. Wednesday from his home in Independence, Mo. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Truman and daughter Margaret.

The ex-president will take an active part in the party "back room" strategy powwows.

A testimonial dinner is being given Truman in New York Saturday evening honoring him on his 70th birthday.

April Post Office Receipts Above '53

A $65,000 increase for the first four months of 1954 was reported. The total for this year was $830,381.47 and for the same period last year $764,780.56.

The total amount now on deposit in postal savings reached a total of $3,790,054.

Former Minister Gets Three-Year Term For Passing Bad Checks

CHICAGO (INS) — A 58-year-old man who says he is a former Baptist minister was sentenced to a three-year prison term for passing worthless checks.

He is Alexander G. Patterson, who pleaded guilty to cashing bogus checks in Scranton, Pa., and Baltimore. Judge Win G. Knoch listened to Patterson's plea for mercy, but the court said:

"You will have to make restitution to the Almighty."

Assistant U. S. Attorney Edward J. Callahan said the FBI reported Patterson had written 200 bad checks and passed them throughout the country.

Lancaster County's anti-polio tests moved into the Lincoln Schools Tuesday where on three successive days approximately 1,500 second grade children will receive their initial injections of the Salk vaccine.

The tests opened Monday when 153 out-county children received their initial shots at the Lincoln-Lancaster public health department.

Public Health Director James T. Goode said Tuesday that 467 Lincoln children received the shots with about equal numbers scheduled for Wednesday and Thursday.

75 Pet. Mark

Except for a negligible number of sick or absent children there were no reconsiderations from the original volunteer list.

Dr. Goode said the tests after two days indicated that Lancaster County would provide upward of 75 per cent volunteers from the entire eligible group. A minimum satisfactory percentage is 50 per cent.

Dr. Goode said the Lancaster tests are going forward in a satisfactory manner in all respects.

Blood Samples Sent

While volunteer children were receiving their 1 cc inoculations of Salk vaccine, blood samples were taken Monday from 133 children and dispatched immediately by air to the Rocky Mountain Health Service Laboratories at Hamilton, Mont. The samples will be analyzed for the level of immunization among untreated children and will serve as a yardstick later in compari-

School Lands Fees, Licenses Reported As 'Biggest Ever'

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

While the state apportionment to school districts from school land funds "settled back to normal" this year, the portion from fees and licenses was the "biggest ever."

The grand total of the 1954 apportionment for the 113 eligible school districts in Lancaster County is $113,570.77 as compared with $391,590.84 last year, according to County Supt. Glenn Turner.

From school land funds, the county received $113,570.77 this year as compared with $318,606.03 for 1953, when reappraisal of school lands and resale of leases brought in the record-breaking figure.

Fines and licenses amounted to $84,301.77 this year as compared with $72,984.81 last year. The figure was a record amount.

The Lincoln school district apportionment this year is $163,665.05 as compared with $163,202.81 last year, Turner said.

Highest apportionment for an elementary district was the $151.11 to West Lincoln, and top Class II (elementary and high school) apportionment was $1,739.63 for Waverly.

Lowest amount, $108.03, went to a four-pupil rural elementary district.

Turner said the apportionment is divided one-fourth equally among the eligible districts and three-fourths based on pupil census. This year's census rate amounted to approximately $7.52 per pupil.

Red China Says No Intervention Made In Fighting

GENEVA (UPI) — Red China's spokesman at the Geneva conference, Huang Hua, said China "has made no intervention of any kind" in the Indo-China war.

Huang told a new conference the Vietminh rebel forces had obtained their arms by capturing them from the French.

He described reports of Chinese aid to the Vietminh as "rumors at variance with the facts" and said the rebels "undoubtedly obtained their arms in the same way we obtained ours in the struggle against Chiang Kai-shek."

Dispatches from the Indo-China front have reported steady supply of war materiel by Red China to the Vietminh. French officials say no Communist Chinese soldiers have entered the conflict on the side of the Vietminh.

Millionaire To Make Switch To A Woman

By LEONARD MILLIMAN
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — John Cabell (Bunny) Breckenridge, 50-year-old San Francisco millionaire, said Tuesday he is going to Denmark in August to be transferred into a woman. Catherine Cabell.

Breckenridge said he had been thinking about the operation for a long time and in the past few months had made arrangements with a British (AP Wirephoto) surgeon to change him from man to woman. He declined to name the surgeon.

The long-haired millionaire, whose fingernails glisten like mother-of-pearl, said that upon his return he is going to marry "a young man from up North. The young man is married and has four children, "whom I adore," Breckenridge said, but a divorce will solve all that.

His thinking about being changed into a woman, he said, was brought to a head by this young man.

"He asked me to do it and I said I would," Breckenridge said. "I will be entirely a woman. We can live as man and wife."

The talked-of marriage wouldn't be the first for the millionaire, scion of one of California's oldest families. He was married for a year, and has a daughter, now twice-married and 23.

He identified her as the Comtesse de Bruchard of France.

He predicted the operation — "which could kill me but I don't think it will" — would open the
